Dear SALUTATON,

Like you, I did not receive my degree from Carolina. I'm not "a Tar Heel born" or "a Tar Heel bred." But since the first day I set foot in Chapel Hill, the tar stuck to my heel just the same.

As a member of the Carolina community, I experience the excellence that is "The University of the People" every day. I am continually awed and inspired by motivated and talented students. I've had chills as I listened to the likes of Lyle Lovett performing in the beautifully renovated Memorial Hall. I've stood, amazed, in front of Moyo Okediji's The Dutchman at the Ackland Art Museum as brightly colored figures changed and took form before my eyes. I've excitedly rushed out to Franklin Street to celebrate after watching the men's basketball team beat Duke. I've viewed the bluest sky I've ever seen as I climbed the stairs by the Carolina Union and headed to the Pit. And I've fallen in love with Carolina.

Like me, something has connected you to this special place and has caused you to fall in love with Carolina. Was it the beauty and scents of the Botanical Gardens? Have you "expanded your universe" at the Morehead Planetarium? Did you enjoy a performance of the PlayMakers Repertory Company? Perhaps you have researched using the extensive and varied collections at the libraries. Or maybe you have been touched by the services of UNC's renowned medical teams, programs and research.

We may not be alumni, but this University welcomes us as members of the Carolina community and invites us to be a part of all that is great here.

Whatever your connection, you, like me, chose last academic year to show your support philanthropically. Private support like ours makes a huge difference that improves every area and makes the entire University great. I hope you join me again this academic year and support the area(s) you love at Carolina. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Rebecca Bramlett
